College of Nursing Associate Professor and Chair

The University of Tennessee Health Science Center, College of Nursing, invites applications for a full-time, 12-month Associate Professor and Chair. As the flagship statewide academic health system, the mission of the University of Tennessee Health Science Center is to bring the benefits of the health sciences to the achievement and maintenance of human health, with a focus on the citizens of Tennessee and the region, by pursuing an integrated program of education, research, clinical care, and professional service.

The College of Nursing (www.uthsc.edu/nursing) is devoted to enhancing the quality of healthcare in our community and beyond. The College of Nursing's roots date back to 1887 when the first nursing school in the Mid-South, the Memphis Training School for Nurses, was chartered. The College offers the following programs: BSN, RN to BSN, MSN, DNP, PhD in Nursing and a dual PhD/DNP program.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- provide leadership and mentorship in the recruitment, selection, onboarding, professional/career development, and retention of faculty;
- conduct annual performance and planning reviews of all faculty (non-tenure track, tenure track, tenured, volunteers, affiliate) to assist faculty members in developing their full potential as educators, researchers/scholars, clinicians, and leaders, to assure they set and meet career goals that are consistent with goals of the college;
- promote a positive climate in the college that will support achievement of college goals and excellence in teaching, research/creative and other scholarly activities, service, and, if applicable, clinical care;
- along with the college executive team, provide leadership in the design, implementation, and evaluation of the strategic plans of UTHSC and CON;
- facilitate college collaborations with other professionals, colleges, institutions, and community organizations;
- equitably assign faculty workloads, including teaching assignments, and work sites to assure that an appropriate balance of time and effort is committed to teaching, research/scholarship, service, and, if applicable, clinical care;
- assume responsibility for all finances of the faculty area and ensure that all UTHSC and CON policies and guidelines for financial management are met;
- manage and evaluate staff assigned within the department who are a direct report to the chair; assist with space allocation;
- manage faculty requests for professional and annual leaves, budget, equipment, and space; and
- assist with the development and revision of CON policies and procedures.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

- Doctoral degree in nursing from an accredited university
- Licensure as a Registered Nurse with the ability to obtain a Tennessee RN license
- Documented accomplishments and national recognition in teaching, research, and/or clinical care

- Recognition for faculty mentoring and development
- Proven record in administration and management
- National involvement in nursing organizations
- Demonstrated ability to foster effective relationships between nursing faculty and others
- Applicants must have a commitment to and knowledge of equal opportunity compliance, affirmative action, diversity and inclusion.
