

Two Nursing Faculty Positions Open

Associate Professor, Director of Graduate Nursing Assistant Professor of Adult Health, Undergraduate Nursing

The School of Nursing at Belmont University is seeking applications for two tenure track faculty positions at the ranks listed above beginning August 1, 2019

Director of Graduate Nursing

Job responsibilities include leading and administering the day-to-day operations of the graduate nursing program at Belmont University which includes curriculum development, advising, scheduling, teaching, university and college service, program assessment, recruiting, marketing, program evaluation and new programming. Candidates must have a terminal degree, national certification, teaching experience, and a track record of scholarly work. Nursing higher education administrative experience is strongly preferred.

Assistant Professor of Adult Health (undergraduate)

Job responsibilities include undergraduate teaching in the area of adult health in a concept based curriculum. This position may teach in classroom, clinical, and/or simulation lab courses. Additional responsibilities include academic advising, student mentoring, scholarly activity, student recruitment and college and university service. Ph.D. or progress toward a terminal degree is required; teaching experience and a track record of scholarly work strongly preferred.

As all Belmont undergraduates complete an innovative general education program with significant interdisciplinary components, Belmont University is particularly seeking applicants who can demonstrate the interest and ability to work collaboratively in course design and to teach interdisciplinary and topical courses in this program.

For additional information about these positions and to complete the online application, candidates are directed to <https://jobs.belmont.edu> . An electronic version of a Cover Letter, Curriculum Vitae, Teaching Philosophy, and a Response to Belmont's Mission, Vision, and Values statement articulating how the candidate's knowledge, experience, and beliefs have prepared him/her to contribute to a Christian community of learning and service must be attached in order to complete the online application. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Ranked number 5 in the Regional Universities South category and named as a "Most Innovative" university by U.S. News & World Report, Belmont University consists of more than 8,000 students who come from every state and more than 25 countries. Committed to being a leader among teaching universities, Belmont brings together the best of liberal arts and professional education in a Christian community of learning and service. The University's purpose is to help students explore their passions and develop their talents to meet the world's needs. With more than 90 areas of undergraduate study, 22 master's programs and five doctoral degrees, there is no limit to the ways Belmont University can expand an individual's horizon.

Belmont University is an equal opportunity employer committed to fostering a diverse community of committed Christians from all racial and ethnic backgrounds. In compliance with federal law, including provisions of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Sections 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Belmont University does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, military service, or sexual orientation on the basis of its administration of education policies, programs or activities; its admissions policies; or employment. Under federal law, the University may discriminate on the basis of religion in order to fulfill its purposes. Belmont's Office of Human Resources actively pursues an annual affirmation action plan that outlines the university's commitment to hiring women, minorities, veterans and disabled individuals in all positions.

The selected candidate will be required to complete a background check satisfactory to the University.